Jeff was a man who had always dreamed of making a difference in the world. But as he got older, he began to doubt himself. He felt like he was too small and insignificant to make any real impact.

One day, Jeff was walking down the street when he saw a small child sitting on the curb, crying. The child had lost her toy and was inconsolable.

Jeff hesitated for a moment, but then he decided to help. He knelt down next to the child and asked her what was wrong.

"I lost my teddy bear," the child sobbed.

Jeff looked around, but he couldn't see the teddy bear anywhere.

"Don't worry," Jeff said. "I'll help you find it."

Jeff and the child searched for the teddy bear for hours, but they couldn't find it. Jeff was about to give up when he saw something out of the corner of his eye.

There, in the middle of the street, was the teddy bear.

Jeff picked up the teddy bear and gave it to the child.

Jeff smiled.
